4th
ANNUAL

Fire Officers Boot Camp: Middle Managers Workshop

2017

Chief Forest Reeder

It is often said that the company officer is the connecting link between administration and the firefighter. This class covers problem solving, delegation, leadership, and strategies aimed at making you the best officer that you can be. Case studies are used to allow officers to utilize their management and leadership skills. Students are challenged to handle dozens of realistic scenarios using basic and common sense management approaches to problem solving and motivation.

Firefighter Behavioral Health, Are we doing Enough?

Sandra Lynch-Massi

An overview of what we as officers, can , should and actually are doing to look out for our members. The question will be asked, Are we doing enough? Participants will be given the tools to effectively answer that question within their organization and personal life.
